

TREATY UNCHANGED.

Japan-China Settlement Ratified In Its Original Form.

THE PROTEST FROM RUSSIA.

Is Features to Be Added to the Peace Treaty as a Protocol—Understanding Reached Which Increases Indemnity to 100,000,000 Taels—Argument in the Income Tax Case Ended.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Japanese and Chinese legations are expectant of final developments on the peace settlement, but no official statement of the exchange of ratifications has been received yet.

It is known positively that the treaty formally ratified and exchanged yesterday probably is identical to the one originally negotiated at Shimoniaki. Such changes as Russia and the other powers have insisted will not be incorporated into the present treaty as it is said this would be impossible in view of the formal ratification of the original treaty by the mikado two weeks ago. The features of the Russian protest may, however, be added as a protocol. It is said that the full execution of these changes will be subject of diplomatic arrangement between Russia and Japan for some months hence.

As a result of the understanding reached between Japan and Russia, it is believed here that the indemnity probably will be increased to 100,000,000 taels and that the occupation of Port Arthur is likely to be for a term of years, until the indemnity is paid. Nothing is known here of the report that Russia and Japan have agreed that Port Arthur and the Liao Tung peninsula shall be annexed to Korea, and the report is not credited.

NO PARDON FOR CHASE.

President Cleveland Refuses Clemency In Vigorous Language.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The president has denied the petition for pardon of William C. Chase, who was recently convicted of publishing a libel against C. E. J. Taylor, recorder of deeds of the District of Columbia. Both Chase and Taylor are colored and the conviction and sentence of Chase to 90 days' imprisonment in the United States jail at Washington was the outcome of a bitter factional controversy which was started here on the appointment of Taylor (a co-incident) nearly two years ago. The president endorsed the petition as follows:

It is conceded that this convict maliciously published an outrageous libel in a newspaper which he controlled and used in this instance at least as a dirty weapon to satisfy his personal rage and revenge. This crime is a most detestable one. It has become so common and is so seldom punished that I cannot reconcile executive clemency in the case here presented, with the duty I owe to decent journalism, the peace of society and the protection of those constantly subjected to libelous attacks.

INCOME TAX CASES.

Argument in the Rehearing Closed—Decision Expected by the 20th.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The rehearing of the income tax case in the supreme court was concluded at 2 o'clock yesterday and the nine justices took the question of the acts constitutional in whole or any part under consideration. On the 20th of this month the court will meet, probably for the last time this term, to render its decisions in pending cases, and it is expected that its conclusions upon the income tax case will be announced at that time. Mr. Joseph H. Choate of New York finished the closing argument which he had begun Tuesday, speaking until 2 o'clock and receiving the closest attention from the justices and a crowd of spectators. It has been generally remarked that interest in the rehearing has been much less intense than at the first argument. Justice Jackson was one of the most attentive men on the bench throughout the hearing and seems to have borne the strain well, considering the condition of his health.

Indian Girl Not Sold.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Captain Woodson, U. S. A., acting Indian agent at the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservation in Oklahoma, has sent a dispatch to the Indian office in regard to the reported sale of a young Indian girl by her father to an aged Indian. Captain Woodson says: "The published report about Rosa White Face being sold by her father is without foundation. It is a pure fabrication. There is no such person on the rolls of this agency."

FREE FIELD FOR SILVER.

Illinois Democratic County Conventions Declaring For 16 to 1 Ratio.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 9.—Secretary of State Hinrichsen, chairman of the Democratic state committee, said yesterday that 20 counties have so far held conventions, and without exception they have declared for free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. "These 20 counties," said Mr. Hinrichsen, "have 463 of the 1,076 delegates in the state convention so that the gold men stand a very poor show of making any fight at all in the convention. Only one county committee so far has refused to call a convention. I am expecting that the state convention will declare for free silver without a dissenting vote."

GIBBONS ON TEMPERANCE.

Thinks Prohibition Impractical In Large Communities—Measures Suggested.

BALTIMORE, May 9.—Cardinal Gibbons yesterday, in the hall of the Young Men's Christian association, delivered an address before the Maryland State Temperance alliance. The large audience included a great many clergymen not of the cardinal's religious belief. His eminence began by saying he was very glad to have an opportunity of meeting some of his separated brethren of the clergy on a common platform.

"I do not think that prohibition can be seriously considered in our large cities," said the cardinal, "for prohibition does not prohibit in large communities." The remedial measures suggested by the cardinal were: High license; restricting the number of saloons in each district or ward; no saloon should be allowed to be opened within a certain proximity to a church or school-house; that the good name of the applicant for a license should be vouched for by reputable citizens; that the sale of liquor should be regulated by judicious legislation; absolute closing on the Lord's day. But all legislation, to be effective, must be backed by the moral support of the people.

REBELS ARE DEFEATED.

Cuban "Battle" In Which 20 Insurgents Are Involved.

HAVANA, May 9.—A band of 20 rebels have been defeated by the troops at the Malagas farm, near Torcade, in the Colon district. One of the rebels was killed and they lost their arms and horses.

It is rumored that Carlos Castillo desires to surrender with his band to the authorities, and it is said that he has informed Captain General Martinez de Campos of his decision in this matter. Maximo Gomez intends to invade Camaguey in the province of Puerto Principe.

At an important meeting of the inhabitants of Puerto Principe, resolutions were passed showing that they were decided to remain loyal and offer active opposition to the rebels. They answered the threats contained in the proclamation issued by Gomez with reminding that the inhabitants remembered his obnoxious conduct during the previous revolution.

REVOLUTION IN CUBA.

Glowing Description of the Insurrectionists' Cause by a Recruit.

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 9.—A letter postmarked Tampa, Fla., but dated in camp near Ramon de Las Jaguar, April 29, and signed by William Flaherty, one of the 20 recruits who left here to join Cuban insurrectionists, has been received and gives a glowing description of the insurrectionists' cause. The writer says the Fort Worth contingent has been in three engagements all of which were won by the patriots and only one man from Fort Worth has been hurt. Recruits are flocking to the insurgents and the morals of the army of liberation is splendid. The letter further states that the Cubans are receiving the best improved arms, have plenty of ammunition and the troops are paid regularly. A majority of the troops are blacks.

MAY INVOLVE THE A. R. U.

Strikers of the Illinois Steel Company Ask For Assistance.

CHICAGO, May 9.—The A. R. U. has been brought into the strike of the employees of the Illinois Steel company at South Chicago. Before the struggle is over the national organization which brought out the standing army in the Pullman strike may throw its whole energy into the movement. It all rests with President Debs' answer. Last night 285 members of the local organization of the American union No. 512, which is composed of strikers, took radical action. It announced that it demanded an eight-hour day and a 50 cent increase of wages, and made a demand on Debs to assist with all the power of the A. R. U.

THERE WAS A HITCH.

Exchange of Japan-China Peace Treaty Ratification Delayed.

SHANGHAI, May 9.—Private advices received from Chee Foo last evening are to the effect that the ratifications of the treaty of peace were not exchanged yesterday, the day fixed for the exchange. It is evident that there is a hitch somewhere. The Russian warships at Chee Foo, which have been painted gray, have been cleared for action.

Held In Default of Bail.

BROOKLYN, May 9.—James F. Wilson, the shoe dealer arrested in Lexington, Ky., under an indictment found against him by the Kings county grand jury has been arraigned in the court of sessions. He pleaded not guilty to four indictments, two for conspiracy and two for fraudulently removing goods, and was committed in default of $10,000 bail. Wilson is accused of defrauding his creditors of $20,000.

Morrill's Arrest Hangs Fire.

TOPEKA, May 9.—Governor Morrill was not arrested yesterday, as was previously announced by the attorneys in the case, for the reason, they say, that the man who is to swear to the complaint could not reach Topeka yesterday. The attorneys insisted last night that the arrest will be made and that Morrill will have to submit to the law the same as any private citizen.

Turned Government Witness.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Henry L. Foss, opium smuggler and forger of Chinese certificates, pleaded guilty to charges of smuggling and conspiracy in the United States district court yesterday. Five other charges were dismissed on motion of the government. Foss turning government witness.

A PRIEST'S DOWNFALL

Found Guilty of Many Sins by an Ecclesiastical Court.

DEPOSED BY THE BISHOP.

Father Mariano Lapore Brushes Aside the Ten Commandments and Mismanages a Church's Affairs—He Defies the Bishop—Testimony in the Brown-Gordon Murder Case at Louisville.

DENVER, May 9.—Bishop Mathas deposed Rev. Father Mariano Lapore, pastor of Mt. Carmel church in this city, who was found guilty by an ecclesiastical court of undue familiarity with women of his parish, dishonesty in politics and other conduct unbecoming a representative of the church.

At the trial affidavits from citizens of Jersey City, N. J., alleging embezzlement, adultery, gambling, drunkenness and like misdoings on the part of the father while he was in charge of a church in that city, were presented. It was shown that he had promulgated a blasphemous revision of the 10 commandments, in which he exhorted his congregation to a method of living far from being in accord with the teachings of the church.

Father Lapore is a young man who arrived in Denver about two years ago. He has never been ordained to the priesthood in America, but was given a temporary appointment here on request of the Italian church. The church property of Mount Carmel is said to be in a deplorable condition on account of Lapore's mismanagement.

Lapore claims that the church property is in his own name and defies the bishop's power to remove him. He will appeal to Rome. He held mass yesterday contrary to the rules of the church.

THE LOUISVILLE TRAGEDY.

Testimony of Officer Lapelle at the Preliminary Hearing.

LOUISVILLE, May 9.—At the examining trial of Fulton Gordon yesterday Officer Lapelle testified as to Gordon's statement made in the ambulance. Gordon said he went into the room and his first shot would have killed Brown if Mrs. Gordon had not jumped in the way. Brown, he said, had fired while he was getting out of his pistol. After the first shot out of Brown's revolver Gordon said he grabbed him. After several shots had been fired Brown dropped his pistol and Gordon, picking it up, shot Brown, killing him with the bullet. Mrs. Gordon, the prisoner said, fought him like a tiger during the fight. Just as she got to the door Gordon said he fired a second shot at his wife. He said: "You will find two bullets in her." Gordon said that Brown had not struck him. From Gordon's statements witnesses were led to believe that Mrs. Gordon had struck her husband with a pitcher or something else.

KILLED IN A SHOOTING AFFRAY.

Bad Blood Between Two Men Culminates In a Fatal Duel.

GALVESTON, Tex., May 9.—In the course of a quarrel yesterday Louis Zimmerman was instantly killed and Henry Bouss dangerously wounded. Some time ago Zimmerman secured a divorce from his wife, who is Bouss' mother. Bad blood existed between Bouss and Zimmerman, and yesterday morning they met and a fusillade was opened. Zimmerman fired and struck Bouss, who returned the fire with a musket, which exploded, tearing Bouss' hands badly. Zimmerman received the full charge of slugs in his breast and died instantly. Bouss is wounded in the left lung, but may recover.

Shot the Wrong Person.

MONETT, Mo., May 9.—Mrs. Frank Collins, wife of a gambler here, shot and killed Annie Snodgrass of Fort Smith, who was walking along the street with Collins. The couple had registered as husband and wife at the Attaway hotel, and when they stepped out upon the street Mrs. Collins was waiting for them. Mrs. Collins told her husband to "get" or he would share a similar fate. She then surrendered herself to the police.

GUARDS WENT TO SLEEP.

Postoffice Robber Escapes While the Marshals Are Dozing.

OLEAN, O., May 9.—Charles Johnson, a postoffice robber wanted in the Indian Territory, escaped from United States deputy marshals between here and Salamanca yesterday. He was captured in Brooklyn and was being taken west on an Erie train. He was handcuffed to a seat and was seemingly in safe custody when the train left Olean. Soon after his guards dropped into a doze and when they awoke at Salamanca it was discovered that their prisoner had slipped his handcuffs and had escaped. So far diligent search has revealed no trace of him. The police of surrounding towns have been notified and it is possible he will be captured. It is understood there is a reward of $2,000 upon his head.

Will Allow Sunday Baseball.

ST. PAUL, May 9.—Mayor Smith, having been formally petitioned on the subject by opponents of Sunday baseball, has announced that he would not enforce the law against such games and that if anyone sought to prevent Sunday ball games it must be through the courts. He announced, however, that the police would be directed to keep down the noise and prevent trespassing on private property in the neighborhood of the park.

MARTIAL LAW AT POCAHONTAS.

Miners Advised to Attempt No Violence. Serving Eviction Notices.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., May 9.—The miners have been advised by the leaders of the strike to attempt no violence to either person or property. So far there have been no clashes between the soldiers and miners. The Browning mills claim an increase of labor. Sixty-five men joined the union Tuesday and it is now certain that 565 men are out in the Virginia mines in favor of the strike. The Browning company is serving notices on its men to vacate the tenement houses. Today is payday and what the eviction of the miners out in the streets will result in, no one knows.

Pocahontas is practically under martial law. No one is admitted in the place unless by pass, the public ways are well guarded and the commanding positions are all in charge of the militia. The companies at Pocahontas are determined to continue mining at all hazards.

About 2,000 miners met in West Virginia near Mayberry last evening. The assemblage was orderly, and the whole field is now a unit to accomplish success.

Still Looking Blue.

PITTSBURG, May 9.—Things are still looking very blue for the striking miners in this district. The Stockdale, Allen and Fidelity mines on the Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio have resumed at 47 cents per ton. As they are thick vein mines this price is equivalent to the 60-cent rate for thin vein mines. The Eureka and Waverly mines are also running partially with nonunion men and the Germania mine has succeeded in getting out some coal. The miners' officials have not given up hope, however, and are still trying to hold the strikers in line.

Quiet at Flat Top.

ROANOKE, Va., May 9.—Dispatches from Pocahontas state that all is quiet in the region of the Flat Top coal strike. Men are expected to arrive soon to take the place of the striking miners. A dozen or more random shots were fired late at night by miners attempting to get through Elkhorn pass, which is guarded by troops, but no shots have been fired by the soldiers. The South-west Virginia Improvement company say that some men are returning to work and that the situation is better.

WILL PROVE A BLESSING.

Russia's Action In Forcing Japan to Yield Territory Approved.

MARRIETTA, O., May 9.—James Creelman, the war correspondent who is here engaged in writing his historical book, says that the action of Russia in forcing Japan to abandon all thoughts of conquest on the Chinese mainland, will prove a blessing to the civilized world. It means that Korea is to be absolutely independent.

Mr. Creelman declares that Russia was justified in believing that the Japanese intended to gradually annex the Korean peninsula. The Korean king is today a mere puppet in the hands of Count Inouye and all national movements among the Korean people are ruthlessly suppressed by Japanese troops. With Japan guarding on one side of the gulf and China on the other, Europe would in time find itself powerless to deal with either nation. Russia has in no sense taken from Japan any legitimate spoils of war. The Japanese have from the very beginning declared that the sole object of the struggle was to free Korea.

New Railroad For Indiana.

NILES, Mich., May 9.—The Baltimore and Ohio railroad company has purchased, or will soon purchase, the old St. Joseph Valley railroad, running between Buchanan and Berrien Springs. It is also announced that the Baltimore and Ohio is about to close a deal by which it will come into possession of the Elkhart and Western railroad between Elkhart and Mishawaka, Ind. It is stated that the Baltimore and Ohio people intend to construct a line from Milford, Kosciusko county, Ind., to Elkhart to connect with the St. Joseph Valley railroad and from Berrien Springs to Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, Mich., thus giving them an entrance to the Lake Michigan port.

Resolutions by Musicians League.

CLEVELAND, May 9.—At yesterday's meeting of the League of National Musicians a resolution was adopted, and ordered sent to the secretary of the navy, protesting against the establishment of a marine band at Buffalo. Another resolution was adopted requesting members of Sousa's band who belong to the league and Knights of Labor to withdraw from that band. Still another resolution was adopted, after a hot debate, forbidding members of the league who belong to traveling orchestras to play in resident orchestras.

Attempted Suicide.

FAIRBURY, Ills., May 9.—John J. Taylor, manager of the Quincy milling firm which assigned yesterday, attempted suicide last evening. He was found hanging in the park at his residence in time to save his life. It is believed he was temporarily deranged and that there was no need whatever for the appointment of a receiver for the firm.

Schooner and Crew Lost.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 9.—The sealing schooner Dora Stewart, which arrived yesterday, brings news of the loss of the Victoria schooner Walter A. Earle with all hands off Cape St. Elias on Easter day. The Earle was commanded by Captain Louis Magnusen and a crew of 23 men, some of whom were Indians.

Buys a Player.

LOUISVILLE, May 9.—Manager McCloskey closed a deal yesterday with Manager Hanlon of the Baltimore club whereby he secures "Big Dan" Bruthers, who will play first base for the Colts.

FARMHAND BADLY INJURED.

He Is Thrown From a Horse and Dragged 80 Rods—Banker Cleared of the Charge of Embezzlement—Crushed by a Bookcase—Crawford County Man Celebrates His 104th Birthday—Other State News.

WARASH, Ind., May 9.—John Forbes, a farm hand near Spelcher, while riding home from the field on the back of the plow horse, was probably fatally hurt. The horse was frightened and threw him off and his foot, catching in the harness, he was dragged along the ground for 80 rods. Forbes was almost skinned alive, and he also sustained internal injuries.

Farmhand Horsemipped.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., May 9.—Mrs. Lizzie Ensley of Indianapolis has a 16-year-old daughter living with relatives in Washington township. A few days since Mrs. Ensley went there and hunted up a farmhand named John Telltoe, whom she claimed had been making remarks reflecting on the character of her daughter. She knocked Telltoe down with a club, and then used a buggy whip on him. He was badly injured and will be confined to his room for some time. A warrant has just been issued for Mrs. Ensley's arrest.

Under a Bookcase.

HOPE, Ind., May 9.—Mrs. Dr. E. G. Regennas has met with a serious if not fatal accident while moving a bookcase. The case, which was full of books, became unbalanced and fell on her limbs and abdomen. Her right leg was broken above the ankle, and the bones protruded through the flesh. Her left foot was crushed, and serious internal injuries are feared.

Not Guilty of Embezzlement.

ROCKVILLE, Ind., May 9.—The trial of Banker Beach of Terre Haute for embezzlement, which has been on here for the past week before Judge White, came to a sudden end yesterday when the judge instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty on the ground that Burns, the prosecuting witness, was indebted to the bank at the time he made his deposit.

Robbers Get $300.

PERU, Ind., May 9.—Unknown men robbed Frank Moore of Gilead, this county, at an early morning hour, of $300 cash, jewelry and other valuables. They went to his house, representing that they had an important telegram, and when the door was opened they confronted him and his family with draw revolvers.

Cut to Pieces by the Cars.

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ind., May 9.—A young man, who was beating a ride over the Monon railroad, fell between the freight cars yesterday near this city and was cut to pieces. Nothing was found to identify him, but it is supposed that he belonged at Danville, Ills.

Remains Recovered.

COLUMBUS, Ind., May 9.—The remains of Lewis Wade, a colored employee, who met his death in the American starch-works fire on the 7th of April, were found yesterday 300 feet away from the point where he was when the fire broke out. His head was entirely burned off.

For Shooting at an Officer.

MUNCIE, Ind., May 9.—Frank Loeper of Albany, who tried to kill Officer Helmdridge last week, firing three shots at the policeman while being arrested, has been fined $50 and costs on the charge of shooting with intent to murder.

Celebrates His 104th Birthday.

ENGLISH, Ind., May 9.—Nathaniel Strougher, the oldest man in Crawford county, celebrated his 104th birthday yesterday. He is a native of Tennessee, and promises to live 10 years longer. Mrs. Nancy Clark of Leavenworth, is 13 months older.

Girl Killed by Lightning.

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., May 9.—Lucy Latliffe, 8-year-old daughter of Nathan Latliffe, eight miles northwest of this city, has been killed by lightning. She attempted to chase a cat of the fence during a storm. The cat escaped.

Sandbagged and Robbed.

VALPARAISO, Ind., May 9.—John Corbay, a student at the normal school, was sandbagged and robbed by two unknown men who entered his room yesterday. His injuries are thought to be fatal.

INDIANA ITEMS.

The miners at Washington and Montgomery have decided to go to work at the old wages.

Miss Anna Shuler, living at the town of Illinois, near Vincennes, died suddenly while cleaning house.

Robert Reed, while riding a bicycle in Shelbyville, took a "header," breaking an arm and otherwise injuring himself.

Indianapolis school teachers are protesting against an order of the school board to march with the school children on Decoration day.

Elwood has secured two new factories—one to manufacture chairs and the other iron and steel bridges and iron lintels. They will employ 500 persons.

The painters' lockout at Indianapolis has ended in the painters going back to work without prejudice, but no nonunion men are to be discharged to give union men places.

FIND BURIED TREASURE.

Missouri Farmer Flows Up a Valuable Tin Box.

OLD MONROE, Mo., May 9.—News has just reached here of a valuable treasure found in this (Lincoln) county. A Jackson, while plowing on an island in Cuivre, one mile north of Moscow Mills, turned up an old log containing a heavy tin box, in which he found money and valuables aggregating nearly $3,000. Nearly $2,700 was in money, principally in gold and silver. The box contained only a small amount in currency, part of which was in 10-cent and 50-cent confederate bills. The paper money was in a poor state of preservation. Besides the money there was a diamond ring worth probably $75 and a gold watch. Mr. Jackson had the land leased from his father, Thomas Jackson. A Mr. Shults had been a partner in the lease, but had sold his interest to young Jackson the day before. The confederate money seems to indicate that the treasure was buried during the war.

Mayor Commits Suicide.

STANFORD, Ky., May 9.—Mayor S. G. Hoeker committed suicide here yesterday by hanging. When found in his smokehouse life was almost extinct and he died shortly after being cut down. Mayor Hoeker left a letter stating that the cause of the rash act was family troubles which had become unbearable.

Constitutional Convention Adjourns.

SALT LAKE, May 9.—The constitutional convention which has for 60 days been framing the fundamental law of the new state, finished its labors yesterday afternoon and adjourned sine die. Speeches of congratulation were made and the closing hours were very interesting and impressive.

It has always been a mooted question in astronomy as to just what angle an arm must be held in order to "see through a glass darkly." It is reported by a farmer residing west of the city that a prominent member of the bar yesterday from the friendly shadow of a tree gave the exact crook to his elbow and the other members of the party unanimously decided that the angle was the pink of perfection.

One of our exchanges speaks of a millinery store kept by a very estimable lady, and says the editor was very glad to see her stocking up. The editor says he was never more astonished than he was when the paper was out to meet the lady and have her strike him across the brow with an umbrella and tell him he was a liar, and that she would tell his wife. He didn't know what she was mad at, and had to read the item over several times to see if there was anything spiteful in it.

Wednesday evening, May 8, at 7:30 o'clock occurred the marriage of Charles A. Rockwell and Miss Winifred Sinclair. The ceremony was pronounced at the residence of the bride's father Isaac Sinclair, near Cloverdale by Rev. C. W. Crooke. The wedding was a quiet one only the relatives being present. The presents were nice and handsome and there were quite a number of them. A reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell at the residence of Capt. A. J. Rockwell, father of the groom today. The happy young couple will reside in Cloverdale where they have many friends to congratulate them, to which congratulations the BANNER TIMES adds its mite. Mr. Rockwell is one of Putnam's most energetic young business men and he gains as a bride a most estimable lady.

The Smith Sisters were greeted by a well-filled house last evening at the Locust Street church. Their entertainment met favor from the opening number, and as a result a double program was almost a necessity on account of the numerous encores. Particularization on the chorus and quartette work would be a difficult task. All the selections were so evenly balanced, the voices so perfectly harmonized that to say one was good is to express the sentiment of the audience as to all. Their voices in ensemble work resembled one voice, and their banjo imitations were "true to life." In solo work Miss Gertrude sang "The Holy City," by Adams, as her capital piece. The heavy selection was given a splendid interpretation. The number is one that is often sung by the more robust voices of the baritone, but in soprano work it furnishes an equally good opportunity for a well-trained voice. In response to applause the singer gave a charming rendition of "Coming through the Rye." In her readings Miss Marguerite pleased every one. Her imitation of childish dialects was perfect, and her "Evening with Helen's Babies" brought to mind the entire flock so well known to readers. "Billet-doux" was cute, and her school commencement representation brought forth heavy applause. Miss Grace has a remarkably deep and resonant contralto voice, and her solos met with encores. The second part of the program was a repetition of the good things of the first, and the program throughout furnished a quarter's worth, and then some, of good music. The entertainment was under the management of the Young Ladies' society of the Locust Street church, who have in view as a special mission the purchase of a site for a parsonage. They realized a neat sum as a starter. The gross receipts were $50.50, and the church ladies will net about $15.

A surprise was in store for the college this morning in the shape of a bogus headed "Reform." No one has been able to discover its purport. It is a pointless, insipid, piece of rant that scarcely deserves mention. Should its author or authors become known, they would immediately be made the butt of the whole college. Whether it intends to heap calumny upon the university, the members of the junior class or the Mirage Board, one in particular or all collectively cannot be determined. Many rumors are afloat concerning the augments. It is altogether a tame affair and can be classed a total failure.

In Nov. and Dec., 1893, The inmates had the 'LaGrippe,' and I was one of the first. Resuming duty too soon, with the care of so many sick, I did not regain my health, and in a month I became so debilitated and nervous from sleeplessness and the drafts made on my vitality, that it was a question if I could go on. A dear friend advised me to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I took 2 bottles and am happy to say, I am in better health than ever. I still continue its occasional use, as a nerve food, as my work is very trying. A letter addressed to Milwaukee, Wis., will reach me." June 6, 1894. MRS. LAURA C. PHOENIX.

SKETCHES OF LINCOLN.

He Is Mentioned as a Presidential Candidate.

HIS COOPER INSTITUTE SPEECH.

Speaking in New England—Two Historic Rails—How He Received His Nomination—Deep and Unusual Emotion—Evolution of the Backwoodsman.

From "The Life of Lincoln" by William H. Herndon and Jesse W. Weik. Copyright, 1888, by Jesse W. Weik. Copyright, 1892, by D. Appleton & Co.

XX.

The opening of the year 1860 found Mr. Lincoln's name freely mentioned in connection with the Republican nomination for the presidency. To be classed with Seward, Chase, McLean and other celebrities was enough to stimulate any Illinois lawyer's pride, but in Mr. Lincoln's case, if it had any such effect, he was most artful in concealing it. Now and then some ardent friend, an editor, for example, would run his name up to the masthead, but in all cases he discouraged the attempt. "In regard to the matter you spoke of," he answered one man who proposed his name, "I beg that you will not give it a further mention. Seriously, I do not think I am fit for the presidency."

The first effort in his behalf as a presidential aspirant was the action taken by his friends at a meeting held in the statehouse early in 1860 in the rooms of O. M. Hatch, then secretary of state. Besides Hatch there were present Norman B. Judd, chairman of the Republican state committee; Ebenezer Peck, Jackson Grimshaw and others of equal prominence in the party. "We all expressed a personal preference for Mr. Lincoln," relates one who was a participant in the meeting, "as the Illinois candidate for the presidency and asked him if his name might be used at once in connection with the nomination and election. With his characteristic modesty he doubted whether he could get the nomination even if he wished it and asked until the next morning to answer whether his name might be announced. Late the next day he authorized us, if we thought proper to do so, to place him in the field. To the question from Mr. Grimshaw whether, if the nomination for president could not be obtained, he would accept the post of vice president he answered that he would not; that his name having been used for the office of president he would not permit it to be used for any other office, however honorable it might be. This meeting was preliminary to the Decatur convention and was also the first concerted action in his behalf on the part of his friends.

A Great Speech.

In the preceding October he came rushing into the office one morning with the letter from New York city inviting him to deliver a lecture there and asked my advice and that of other friends as to the subject and character of his address. We all recommended a speech on the political situation. Remembering his poor success as a lecturer himself, he adopted our suggestions. He accepted the invitation of the New York committee, at the same time notifying them that his speech would deal entirely with political questions, and fixing a day late in February as the most convenient time. Meanwhile he spent the intervening time in careful preparation. He searched through the dusty volumes of congressional proceedings in the state library and dug deeply into political history. He was painstaking and thorough in the study of his subject, but when at last he left for New York we had many misgivings—and he not a few himself—of his success in the great metropolis. What effect the unpretentious western lawyer would have on the wealthy and fashionable society of the great city could only be conjectured.

A description of the meeting at Cooper institute, a list of the names of the prominent men and women present or an account of Lincoln in the delivery of the address would be needless repetition of well known history. It only remains to say that his speech was devoid of all rhetorical imagery, with a marked suppression of the pyrotechnics of stump oratory. It was constructed with a view to accuracy of statement, simplicity of language and unity of thought. In some respects like a lawyer's brief, it was logical, temperate in tone, powerful, irresistibly driving conviction home to men's reasons and their souls. No former effort in the line of speechmaking had cost Lincoln so much time and thought as this one.

The day following the Cooper institute meeting the leading New York dailies published the speech in full and made favorable editorial mention of it and of the speaker as well. It was plain now that Lincoln had captured the metropolis. From New York he traveled to New England to visit his son Robert, who was attending college. In answer to the many calls and invitations which showered on him he spoke at various places in Connecticut, Rhode Island and New Hampshire. In all these places he not only left deep impressions of his ability, but he convinced New England of his intense earnestness in the great cause. The newspapers treated him with no little consideration. One paper characterized his speech as one of "great fairness," delivered with "great apparent candor and wonderful interest. For the first half hour his opponents would agree with every word he uttered, and from that point he would lead them off little by little until it seemed as if he had got them all into his fold. He is far from prepossessing in personal appearance, and his voice is disagreeable, and yet he wins your attention from the start. He indulges in no flowers of rhetoric, no eloquent passages. He displays more shrewdness, more knowledge of the masses of mankind than any public speaker we have heard since Long Jim Wilson left for California."

As a Politician.

Lincoln's return to Springfield after his dazzling success in the east was the signal for earnest congratulations on the part of his friends. Seward was the great man of the day, but Lincoln had demonstrated to the satisfaction of his friends that he was tall enough and strong enough to measure swords with the Auburn statesman. His triumph in New York and New England had shown that the idea of a house divided against itself induced as strong co-operation and hearty support in prevention of a great wrong in the east as the famous "irrepressible conflict" attracted warriors to Seward's standard in the Mississippi valley. It was apparent now to Lincoln that the presidential nomination was within his reach. He began gradually to lose his interest in the law and to trim his political sails at the same time. His recent success had stimulated his self confidence to unwonted proportions. He wrote to influential party workers everywhere. I know the idea prevails that Lincoln sat still in his chair in Springfield, and that one of those unlooked for tides in human affairs came along and caught the nomination into his lap, but any man who has had experience in such things knows that great political prizes are not obtained in that way. The truth is, Lincoln was as vigilant as he was ambitious, and there is no denying the fact that he understood the situation perfectly from the start. In the management of his own interests he was obliged to rely almost entirely on his own resources. He had no money with which to maintain a political bureau, and he lacked any kind of personal organization whatever. A letter written by Lincoln about this time to a friend in Kansas serves to illustrate his methods and measures the extent of his ambition. The letter is dated March 10 and is now in my possession. For obvious reasons I withhold the friend's name: "As to your kind wishes for myself," writes Lincoln, "allow me to say I cannot enter the ring on the money basis, first, because in the main it is wrong, and secondly, I have not and cannot get the money. I say in the main the use of money is wrong, but for certain objects in a political contest the use of some is both right and indispensable. With me, as with yourself, this long struggle has been one of great pecuniary loss. I now distinctly say this—if you shall be appointed a delegate to Chicago, I will furnish $100 to bear the expenses of the trip."

Lincoln's friend, instead of securing that delegation for him, suffered the Seward men to outgeneral him, and the prospects were by no means flattering. "I see by the dispatches," writes Lincoln in a burst of surprise, "that, since you wrote, Kansas has appointed delegates and instructed for Seward. Don't stir them up to anger, but come along to the convention, and I will do as I said about expenses." Whether the friend ever accepted Lincoln's generous offer I do not know, but it may not be without interest to state that within ten days after the latter's inauguration he appointed him to a federal office with comfortable salary attached and even asked for his preferences as to other contemplated appointments in his own state.

Formal Notice of His Nomination.

The news of his nomination found Lincoln at Springfield in the office of The Journal. Naturally enough, he was nervous, restless and laboring under more or less suppressed excitement. He had been tossing ball, a pastime frequently indulged in by the lawyers of that day, and had played a few games of billiards to keep down, as another has expressed it, "the unnatural excitement that threatened to possess him." When the telegram containing the result of the last ballot came in, although apparently calm and undisturbed, a close observer could have detected in the compressed lip and serious countenance evidences of deep and unusual emotion.

As the balloting progressed he had gone to the office of The Journal and was sitting in a large armchair there when the news of his nomination came. What a line of scenes, stretching from the barren glade in Kentucky to the jubilant and enthusiastic throng in the Wigwam at Chicago, must have broken in upon his vision as he hastened from the newspaper office to "tell a little woman down the street the news!" In the evening his friends and neighbors called to congratulate him. He thanked them feelingly and shook them each by the hand. A day later the committee from the convention, with George Ashmun of Massachusetts at its head, called and delivered formal notice of his nomination. This meeting took place at his house. His response was couched in polite and dignified language, and many of the committee, who now met him for the first time, departed with an improved impression of the new standard bearer. A few days later he wrote his official letter of acceptance, in which he warmly indorsed the resolutions of the convention. His actions and utterances so far had begun to dissipate the erroneous notion prevalent in some of the more remote eastern states that he was more of a backwoods boor than a gentleman.

Duel With Shotguns.

LITTLE ROCK, May 9.—Yesterday afternoon at Wampoo, this county, an attempt was made by Constable John Green to serve a warrant on Milt Harper. Both men were armed with double-barreled shotguns and began firing at each other. Green received 10 buckshot in the body and Harper 23. Both men died in less than an hour.

Alleged Strangler Acquitted.

DENVER, May 9.—The jury in the Demady case returned a verdict acquitting him of the Tapper murder last night after having been out four hours and a half. The prisoner, Richard Demady, was charged with the first one of three stranglings, in which Lena Tapper, his mistress, was the victim.

Washington Gladden Gets the Prize.

HANOVER, N. H., May 9.—The Fletcher prize of $500 offered for the best essay on "In what ways ought conception of personal life and duty be modified," by a Dartmouth graduate has been awarded to Rev. Washington Gladden, D. D., of Columbus, O.

Bandits Make a Raid.

GUTHRIE, O. T., May 9.—Two armed bandits made a wholesale raid through the country 30 miles east of here. At John McClelland's, near Tryon, they robbed McClelland and his son of a large sum of money, and then went to a neighbor's stable and stole two fresh horses. A number of other houses were visited and the occupants held up. They reached George Ross' place near Dale, whom they robbed of $600, a watch and a gun, but threw the two latter articles away after going a short distance.

Anti-Silver Convention.

WACO, Tex., May 9.—Delegates are on hand for the anti-silver 16 to 1 meeting today, and letters and telegrams indicate a large attendance. The sentiment expressed represents the Cleveland money idea and the position to be taken will accord fully therewith. All parts of Texas are represented. Delegates will be named for the Memphis convention.

"From Shadow—Sun."

We must live through the dreary winter if we would value the spring.
And the woods must be cold and silent before the robins sing.
The flowers must lie buried in darkness before they can bud and bloom,
And the sweetest and warmest sunshine comes after the storm and gloom.
So the heart from the hardest trial gains the purest joy of all,
And from lips that have tasted sadness the sweetest songs will fall.
So as peace comes after suffering, And love is reward for pain,
So, after earth is heaven,
And out of our loss the gain.
